

Superior Court of Arizona in Maricopa County

Getting to Know Family Court

Staff at the Superior Court of Arizona in Maricopa County have created several seminars to help Family Court customers better understand the Court process.

In an area of law where many litigants are self-represented, Superior Court is finding new ways to make the court process as accessible and understandable as possible. As Superior Court continues to identify litigant's needs, the many services it offers will continue to change and evolve.

The Court encourages you to take advantage of these seminars to learn about some of the Court's new and existing programs and to help ease any confusion or intimidation you may have about Family Court.
